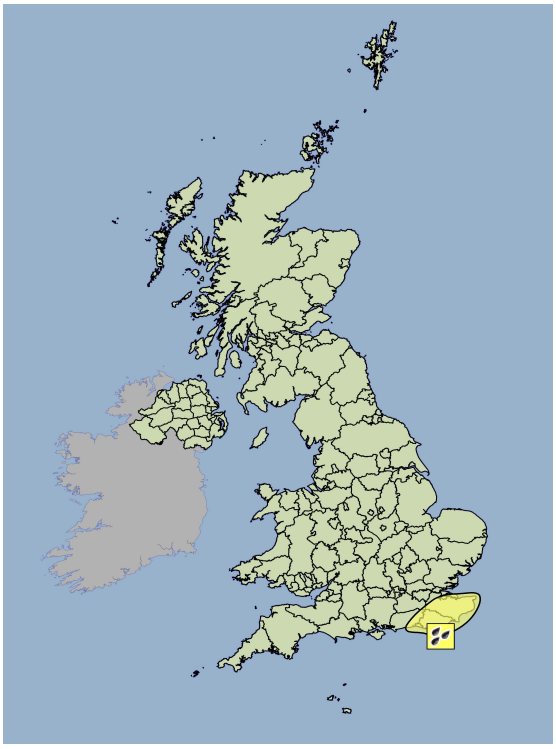
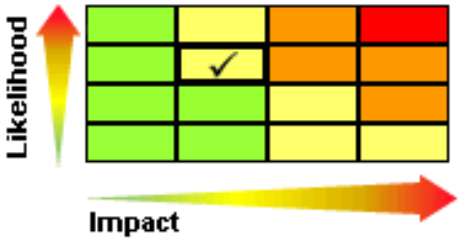
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An area of low pressure will track eastwards across the UK later on Wednesday, bringing some heavy bursts of rain. 15 to 20 mm may fall in a short space of time, and with saturated conditions, this may lead to some surface water flooding.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 17:00 on Wed, 13th Jan 2016 until 03:00 on Thu, 14th Jan 2016

Showery rain, some heavy with a risk of thunder, will spread from the west later on Wednesday afternoon, lasting through the evening before clearing during the early hours of Friday morning. Please be aware of the risk of some localised flooding with surface water on roads and difficult driving conditions.
